

One requires more than pepsin to Digest All Food

Most digesters, put up in dry form, depend almost solely on pepsin.

But pepsin digests albumen only. Not starch, not fats, not phosphates.

Nor can pepsin do what the bowels do toward digestion. Yet that is almost half.

A perfect digester requires that many ingredients be perfectly balanced. And they must be in liquid form.

Kodol is such a digester. Eat what you need of the foods that you want, and Kodol completely digests them.

It does all that the healthy stomach does—all that the bowels do. One can see it do this, under proper conditions, by applying a little Kodol to a mixture of food in a test tube.

Or you can prove it after any meal in your own stomach. We have never found another digester which does what Kodol does.

When the stomach is weak, a perfect digester is of vital importance.

The stomach, to recover, must have complete rest. There must be no undigested food to irritate the inflamed lining.

Complete rest never comes through dieting. There is always something which the stomach can't digest.

And dieting means partial starvation, just at a time when nourishment will do more than medicine.

Kodol is essential. It does what nothing else can do. It gives such instant relief—such complete relief—that the stomach very quickly recovers.

You won't need an artificial digester long if you employ this perfect help.

SIMPLE DIAMOND TESTS.

Unwary Pawnbrokers Have Been Deceived by Stone Fakers.

"There are few persons," remarked a jeweller, "who are able to purchase a diamond on the strength of their own knowledge and observation and without placing implicit confidence in the man who sells the stone. It is a fact that even pawnbrokers have often been taken in by jewelry and precious stone fakers."

"Although it takes many years of actual observation and experience before one can become a diamond expert, there are a few simple tests which will considerably aid a buyer of diamonds. One test is to prick a needle hole through a card and look at the hole through the doubtful stone."

"If the latter is spurious two holes will be seen, but if it is a diamond only one hole will be visible. Every imitation stone which resembles a diamond gives a double reflection, while the diamond's refraction is single."

"This is a delicate test, because it is difficult to see even a sharp and defined object through a diamond. The single refraction of the diamond also allows one to determine an uncertain stone."

"If the finger is placed behind it and viewed through the stone with a watchmaker's glass, the grain of the skin will be plainly seen if the stone is not a diamond. But if it is a diamond the grain of the skin will not be distinguished at all."

"A diamond in solid settings may be identified in the same manner. If genuine the setting at the back cannot be discerned, but if it is a phony stone the foil or setting will be seen."

"There is no acid which has any perceptible effect upon a genuine diamond. Hydrofluoric acid, if dropped on a stone made of glass, will corrode it, but will not affect a diamond one way or the other. A trained eye can see the hardness in a diamond, whereas the imitations appear soft to the vision of the experts."

The Soldiers' Monument in the cemetery of Tipton, Mich., was the first monument erected in honor of the soldiers killed in the Civil War raised in the United States. It was erected in 1866, and was dedicated on July 4, of that year.

The Value of Expectation.

A popular New England preacher says that if his sermon ever stretches beyond the twenty minutes to which he means always to limit it the words of his little daughter ring in his ears and he reflects that some of his congregation are doubtless feeling as she did on a memorable occasion.

The occasion was the little girl's sixth birthday, which chanced to come on Thanksgiving Day.

She went to church with her mother and sat quietly through the service. The sermon was unusually good. The minister could not help thinking he had plenty to say, and he said it fluently.

"How did you like my sermon?" he asked his young critic as they walked home together, her small hand in his big one.

"You preached awful long father," said the little girl, "but I heard it because I love you, and I knew I'd have a nice dinner when I got home and forget what I'd been through."

A Cure for Seasickness.

A chat with a hardy Breton fisherman brought forth this novel cure for seasickness. While the old man told of the storms that he had been through, the narrow escapes he had had, and the long journeys he had taken, he was interrupted by the question, "And seasickness? Were you ever sick?" "Never," replied the old man, "and I'll tell you the reason if you like to hear—I never went on any ship without taking a little mirror in my pocket. As soon as I felt the sickness coming on I looked in the glass, and all symptoms passed away. I got the cure from my father, and I never knew it to fail." The receipt is easily tried, and if it does not convince the skeptical there is the consolation that no loss need be entailed in giving it a chance.—P. T. O.

The Judge Uses Forceful Language.
Judge W. B. Simmons of Fincastle, Va., told the reporter that L. & M. Paint was used on his residence in 1882, and held its color well for 21 years; he furthermore said that 3 years ago he was induced to use another paint and is sorry he did, because the other paint didn't make good. The Judge will now always use L. & M. because he knows if any defect exists in L. & M. Paint, the house will be repainted for nothing.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business.
